GI Agricultural School Planned To Start Here Shortly

All Agricultural Efforts Included In Recent Provisions

Uncle Sam has taken cognizance of the plight of the Geese from the rural areas and who can't afford to quit his work to go to college, or to some professional or trade school to improve his chances in life as have thousands more from the same farms. Geese can work at their jobs while going to school at nights to combine theory with his practical work.

He can do this if he's really in earnest and makes a good showing—and be paid while he does it. This is the same basis as the boy who is going to college under the Geese Bill of Rights.

It is necessary to have a minimum of 18 men to 25 is a more realistic number. If we have such a school conducted, and 14 of the necessary 18 have already signed up, with daily calls of inquiry.

Veterans Service Officer, Kirchman figures that if four thousand veterans from whom three applying will not continue the work, so he wants a surplus of applicants, after he obtains the necessary 18. So if you are now engaged in some agricultural work—other than ploughing and selling—you are eligible.

Under the law veterans may receive $75 per month to $120 for those with children. The purpose of this money is not to just give you a living, but to just make up for whatever time you take away from your regular work and to help you keep your family. You must maintain some marks and a showing on your practical work to convince the authorities that you're really "putting out."

At one time you had to be actually moving the dirt to qualify, but recent regulations recognize that rabbits are raised for meat, and that you produce a substantial income to those who work with them, or that poultry is substance business. Cattle allow several professions: growing of grasses as grazing hay or mixed feed-stuffs are popular, those who are engaged in agriculture and the form of work you are doing is generally practiced in the community, then see Wilbur Kirchman right away and get enrolled.

Competent teachers are available in the Glades.

Mrs. McDonald states she is endeavoring to get a new supply of sand boxes and materials and sand and clay for all ages to use. Supervised play hours will be from 9 to 12 each morning. Assisting Mrs. McDonald will be Mrs. Ruby Dotson.

School Enrollment Of 352 Is Record

Belle Glade High School enrollment of 352 students is a record set by Frank O. Hobson principal.

The enrollment figure represents the yearly 'ten per cent increase which has been taking place in the school, Hobson says. About 80 new students were enrolled this year.

Those who came last year and last, and late registration will probably slightly boost the figure.

Three post graduate students, Mariette Campbell, Maxine Schug and Joan Leffin, were included in the registration.

Grade registration totals are: first, 73; second, 65; third, 65; fourth, 53; fifth, 68; sixth, 66; seventh, 68; eighth, 67; ninth, 67; tenth, 68; eleventh, 59; twelfth, 31. Girls outnumber the boys by four students.

THE U. S. MARINES WANT VOLUNTEERS—JOIN TODAY

City commissioners moved to have an unofficial ballot on the issue of the city taking over the Country Club of the Everglades at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The voting will be held in connection with the city election September 12, but ballots on the issue will be deposited in separate containers.

They passed the budget on the issue of the city getting city mileage at 12 which is a reduction of two mills over that of last year.

Shootin' Blanks By Paulette

Suppose one happened to fall on her head when coming out of an ice cream parlor and for one desperate minute she thought she was a canary in a city electric chair.

Perhaps when faced with this worst of all dilemmas she would compose a platform, such as the world had never heard before, on which to run.

If I were candidate and I were male, I would probably insist that the blonde and red headed population of Belle Glade be increased.

If I were candidate and I were female, I would outlaw parallel parking within the

THE SMALL PER CENT

Controversy over the World Federalists referendum, to be voted on in Florida at the general election in November, has waged hot here recently. Talks have been made at civic clubs on both sides of the question, and members are studying the proposal and its implications.

The discussion questions evidence healthy interest and practice of the democratic procedure. Yet, this issue, which has gathered such momentum, has tended to blot out issues nearer in time to us.

Our government functions as a whole on national, state county and city levels. They are integral parts of the whole and each is important to every citizen.

In view of the importance of this national issue, the decision which is still three months off, many local citizens lost sight of the permanent city registration which has been under way here and election of North Borough and Central Borough commissioners coming up September 12.

City Clerk Frank Anderson reported at the last city commission meeting that he had done everything he could think of to remind people to register. He asked that he be allowed to help out the campaign the last week with posters on public vehicles.

Saturday the books were closed. Registration fell about a hundred behind that of last year. The census attributes a population of 6,889 to Belle Glade. Only about 1,100 registered. In other words, 16 per cent of our population are eligible to cast their votes in the national election coming up November 7.

Even subtracting that portion of the population which is not qualified for registration here, the showing is poor.

Actually 84 per cent of the local residents will not speak through their ballots. The commission will not represent their choice.

The majority will not have the right to criticize the new group of commissioners, for their words will be too late and without effect.

Squint's Drumming.
For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road— one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a store about lately, though, so that that trait— always take a look at his property, stop his car or truck, and wait goes a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by the house. Through a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he's done. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these— I like to keep my property clean.'

That's right, Squint's sign should make automobile roadside trash-dumpers pretty darned ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have a much respect for their neighbors' rights as they do for their own.

For the sake of the members, the Herald will not be responsible if the club is lost to the Community. The members of the club do not know it can be stated that the general membership has contributed more than the City will have to spend for the Club, and all creditors are agreeing to a deferment of their interests so that the property may have a chance to be put on its feet. These creditors—the persons who own the mortgage—can fence in the Club and go into the cattle business right quick and realize a handsome profit over time. They have been patient and are continuing to do so in the interest of the community.

As a business proposition, the City could very easily realize a profit on the ground and building if a real estate broker may have a chance to buy, dance, gossip occasionally, remember the younger generation and their friends and help provide wholesome recreation and pastime for your friends and relatives. If the recreation is not all you might expect, it certainly will take the place of much more undesirable pastime that is and will be made available.

If I were candidate and member of the younger romantic set, I would speak for a gondola service on all canal arteries within the city limits on moonlight nights. Perhaps these conventions lifted their spirits climbing on their soap boxes and presented the idea first, but my plan would have a new slant.

If I were candidate and a "Hot Rod Happy," I would declare a law calling for the arrest of all drivers driving less than sixty miles an hour within the city limits.

If I were candidate and a revolutionary coach, I would call the Golden Rams the Charging Brahmans. Their uniforms would be black and green highlighted with a bean design on the shirts.

If I were candidate and had devoted my golden youth to newspaper offices, I would advocate going around in circles for the revolutions. I would set reporters schedules at 8 a. m. to 8:15 p. m. for one day a week.

Yes, all this I would do in plugging for the more abundant life if I were candidate for one desperate minute.

Small first aid kits might well be standard equipment on the farm tractor and other equipment.

"Folksongs of Fla."
Latest On "Gulf Press"

Folksongs of Florida ($7.50) is the title of the latest book to be published by the University of Florida Press. Written by Dr. Alton C. Morris, a native of Florida, this book is a compilation of songs native and derived from the state.

These songs record the struggles and triumphs of a people during Florida's colonization period and during the Civil War. Southerners will welcome this monumental account of these songs, as they have long loved and sung them.

Dr. Morris, professor at the University of Florida, worked for 25 years compiling the songs of his native state. His collection includes both sacred and profane, spirituals and songs of war, songs of love and marriage; songs of prison and of the open sea.

Folksongs of Florida is the first book published on Florida's folk songs. It contains many elsewhere found English, Scottish, and Irish songs, which have been merged into Florida's traditional ways.

Dr. Morris obtained his collection through personal contact with the peoples of Spanish and English-speaking communities of Florida, as well as from the native singers. He has preserved in the book 243 songs with 128 variants. Dr. Leonard Deutsch has transcribed the melodies for 187 of the song texts.

Safety Warning Given
For School Children

"Don't let school bells sound the death knell for YOUR child!"

This grim warning was issued by State Patrol Director H. N. Kirkman, spokesman for the state's educational program of traffic safety education, as millions of youngsters trooped to classrooms throughout the country—for the first time.

"For the beginner," Kirkman said, "there may be the first tussle with reality—with the dangers of the street, and the problems that he must face for himself without Mother's personal guidance. For that reason, the danger to the very young is extreme at this time of the year."

This emphasis on child safety—the necessity for thorough safety—part of the Florida educators and parents and the driver's responsibility for child safety—is part of the Florida Highway Patrol's program this month.

Another important part of the program, Kirkman said, will be devoted to acquainting the public with the record of drivers as a group, and how this record can be improved.

"Traffic safety education," Kirkman said, "is not something that we arbitrarily end with the student's fourth eighth, or even ninth grade education. A full—so-called 'fourth'—drivers themselves have much to learn about traffic safety, so the process is obviously a never-ending one. Instruction early in a child's life, however, will go a long way to make things safer for him, and in 10 or 20 years when he is of driving age, for all of us."

Using the slogan, "Set THEM A GOOD Example," the Florida Highway Patrol hopes to convince adults that their teachings may mean the difference between life or death for some youngster.

FARMERS MUST DO MORE WITH LESS, SAYS MAYO

Food is essential whether in peace or war, states Commissioner Nathan Mayo. The farmer is a first defender, and will do his part of the job and women from agricultural fields to the war effort, farmers will have do the work with less help.

Every man going into the war service must have 8 tons of equipment and it requires 30 men and women to keep one man in service and about 100 men and women to keep one bombing plane flying.

Safety, whether at home, in work or play, is an economic necessity and a patriotic responsibility; therefore, not only the farmer but everyone engaged in work must be careful in homes, industry and on the streets and highways.

Safety is just common sense, stated Asher Frank of the Florida Safety Council.

FCD SAVES MONEY, SAYS EARMAN IN WSWN TALK

Already some three and one-half million dollars have been spent by Southern Flood Control District in their necessary acquisition of lands to carry out the huge project, according to Joe Earman, Vero Beach chairman of the Central-Southern Florida Flood Control Board. These savings, says Earman, came about by public agencies, such as the State Internal Improvement Trust or public utility citizens, who either gave their lands or sold for very low prices, which has resulted in the original control estimate of $3,600,000 cost resulting in a buy at only $1,000 per acre.

According to Earman, not all has been on the happiness-and-light side, for counsel for the control authorities are preparing a few condemnation suits to acquire necessary lands which, eventually, will total some 900,000 acres, lying in Broward, Palm Beach and Dade Counties.

Working in close cooperation with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, with headquarters in Clewiston, Chairman Earman says much of the endless paper work to be done will be eliminated, thus saving the engineers much time, trouble, and expense. Work will be continued on the Levee L-31 project, near Miami, the farthest south part of the project, opened in 1940.

Earman recently clarified much of the project's purpose and resultant benefits to residents of the Lake Okeechobee area, in a fifteen-minute address made over radio station WSWN, here.

Co. Red Cross To Handle Emergency Korea Messages

At the request of E. Tinsley Halter, Chairman of Palm Beach County American Red Cross, and for the benefit of the families of American service men in Korea, National headquarters advised the local chapter today of important rules to be followed in attempting to reach men on the war fronts or on military installations, in time of family emergency.

In view of this information, Mr. Halter announced that the local Red Cross Home Service Department will handle emergency messages in the following situations:

When commercial telegraph or telephone service is not available and when material cannot be met need the speed for speedy action in family situations involving death, serious illness, or birth—if there are complications, and problems of allowances, allotments, or business affairs in which time is a factor.

When members of the family have been unsuccessful in efforts to communicate directly with the serviceman about an urgent family matter.

When the services of American Red Cross representatives are needed to help the service man consider a family problem, or when they are needed to help the service man meet the sick or disabled news.

Mr. Halter said that his chapter has been advised that there are now 21 Red Cross field workers in Korea prepared to handle communications of this type to the nations 3,700 chapters. Mr. Halter also pointed out that the Red Cross has next of kin are always notified by the War Department of casualties and Red Cross has nothing to do with this procedure.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AWARD RADIO CONTRACT

County commissioners recently awarded to the Motorola Company a contract for furnishing radio equipment to the sheriff's department at a cost of $6,970, over the objection of C. C. Byrd, the most popular broker from Delray Beach, who opposed the action on the basis that the General Electric Co. had submitted a bid $600 lower.

Commissioner John Prince of Lake Worth made the decision awarding the contract to Motorola but stipulated that his stand was based on a recommendation from the sheriff's department, which had been given two weeks to make an investigation.

Prince said that under the circumstances, the county was permitted to make the award for the "best" or the "lowest" and pointed out that Sheriff John F. Kirk, whose department used the radio equipment, had recommended Motorola involved in the purchase when ten sets for the sheriff's cars, an operating station in the new county jail and an antenna.

When the contract was put to a vote, four of the commissioners voted in favor with Byrd voting "no."

The commission also took stock at Monday's meeting to launch work on the development of the new county Phipps Park on the oceanfront be-

Proved dependability that makes them the MOST POPULAR Motor-fuels in Florida!

MOTORS, being unable to read, are unimpressed by the claims being made for some gasolines these days. They can perform only on the quality that is actually in the gasoline.

We have never found it necessary to make exaggerated claims for Crown and Crown Extra. We sell them for exactly what they are... dependable motor fuels possessing the all-round qualities which make them leaders in their respective fields.

That's why more motorists come back to Standard Oil stations than to any other stations in Florida.

Grandmother Would Envy Today's Bride Her Success At Making Delicious Spreads

By BETTY BARCLAY

Jelly-making nowadays is a art, not the same old routine of the grandmother's day. The modern housewife no longer uses gooseberry and she can use many fruits that years ago were considered poor for "jellying."

Most of all, modern schools for jalapeno jelly have made the maker of perfect results, whether she be inexperienced bride or veteran housewife.

Given to a jelly-making class at the local Extension Service, I was most impressed by the accuracy with which the students measured up to exact measurements.

Work out of jelly-making. Even a working housewife whose time is limited can make out a good, rich and clear by using the short-cut method with natural fruit juice.

MILLER OFFERS TIPS ON STERILIZING SOIL FOR FLATS FOR SEED

Now is the time when flower gardeners are getting ready to plant seed of annuals for late winter and early spring bloom, and Dr. H. N. Miller, plant pathologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station offers some pointers to help them produce sturdy plants.

Almost any type of soil can be used in the flats or seed beds, even sand, Dr. Miller says if it is sterile. He gives two simple and inexpensive ways to sterilize soil for home plantings.

Small amounts of soil can be sterilized by heating in the oven of any stove. The temperature and time for heating are approximately the same as that required to make a medium-size potato.

If comparatively large quantities of soil are needed, the cheapest method of sterilization is to drown the soil with a solution of formalin and water—using one gallon of the mixture to each square foot of soil. The soil should then be air-dried until the odor of formaldehyde has disappeared, usually about two or three days.

Sterilizing the soil is useful, however, unless old board flats or the boards around the seedbeds are sterilized too. Dr. Miller advises. They should be cleaned thoroughly and scrubbed with a 10% solution of formaldehyde or any other good fungicide such as Fomate. If Fomate is used, a solution of one pound of Fomate in six gallons of water will be sufficient. Flats or beds should be dry before filling with sterilized soil.

KOREAN WAR DEFENSE PROGRAM WILL AFFECT PRICE OF VEGETABLES

What about prices for Florida vegetables in the 1950-51 season? Mr. W. Parvin of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service answers that the most important item on which vegetable prices hinge is the Korean War and the size and scope of the defense program to cope with the war and its aftermath.

"Actually," Mr. Parvin says, "the potential demand for Florida vegetables is nothing more complicated than the dollars in the hands of the American housewife. Vegetables must compete with items such as toves, cars, refrigerators, or the housewife's dollar, and therein lies the importance of the war situation."

If the government forced too many controls, it would control on the more expensive items, while putting more dollars in the working-man's pocket thru defense projects, then the demand for and price of vegetables will rise, and perhaps it is likely, the economist points out, that with controls on luxury items, the increase in business activity cause the demand for the 1950-51 crop slightly better than

Since many truck crops brought low prices last year, the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee has recommended reduction in acreage for next season in snap beans, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, eggplant, escarole, peppers, potatoes, squash, and watermelons.

Progress Marked In Reorganization of FEC

Possible progress in reorganization of the Florida East Coast Railroad was seen after a conference in the office of Federal Judge Louie W. Strum.

Circle Two met at the home of Mrs. L. D. Bessett with Mrs. Juanita Burn as hostess. It was not a hazing and no action was taken. However, word leaked out that many problems surrounding the reorganization of the bankrupt FEC may break early in 1951.

Most of the reports centered around relocating the road's Miami station. Miami Mayor William A. Wolff said, "We are nearer toward final realization of the FEC station to be approved last October by the Northeast 20th street site, State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission."

No "Push-Button Selling" Says Chrysler Manager

"Push-button selling" is but an idle dream in the automobile industry, according to Joseph A. O'Malley, general sales manager of the Chrysler Division.

In a special message to Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in connection with the forthcoming debut of the new Chrysler television network show, "Treasury Men in Action," Mr. O'Malley declared, "There is not now, and never will be, such thing as a 'push-button selling' in the automobile industry. No sales organization can allow itself to be lulled into complacency by even the most powerful advertising programs. Periodical periods of easy sales brought on by unusual but temporary circumstances."

"Over the long haul, success in any selling venture will go to the dealer who has a superior product to sell, an interest in themselves and their product, and a constantly renewed reservoir of public goodwill," Mr. O'Malley continued.

Commenting on the Chrysler Division's new venture into network television, Mr. O'Malley stated that the move is but a sound, well balanced program to back up the selling power of the Chrysler dealers."

He pointed out that earlier in the summer the Chrysler

Division embarked on a new advertising campaign in television.

"But with all the potency of our advertising program of all the modern advances in means of conveying the advertising message, we must never forget that the salesman is still the cornerstone of the successful enterpriser," Mr. O'Malley concluded.

New Fruit Spread

A new fruit spread of smooth, creamy texture which may be kept without refrigeration may have been developed from fruit juice and honey at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Eastern Regional Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa.

In reporting the new product, the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry points out that it may provide a new outlet for many fruits as well as for honey. The fruit gives flavor and color to the spread, and its sweet taste, creamy consistency and good keeping quality.

Delicious spreads were made with red raspberry, grape, loganberry, and orange. Fruit products found excellent for the spread included frozen strawberry and raspberry purées and juices from the four berries, fresh peach puree, bottled grape juice, canned pineapple and loganberry juice, peach and apricot "nectars," cherry puree, frozen orange juice concentrate, and grape juice concentrate with natural flavor essence of the fruit added.

To accentuate the fruit flavor, or refined or de-flavored liquid honey was used. But a pleasant spread can be made which blends the fruit and honey flavors.

Briefly, the process of making is to mix juice or puree and honey—half and half—and add sugar to taste. The product is then cooled. Just before filling into small packages a little finely crystallized honey is stirred in slowly. This "starter" causes all the honey to crystallize. The spread acquires its creaminess. A similar method is used to convert liquid honey to the familiar "creamed honey."

The new spread may be spread like jam or jelly on bread or sandwiches, wafers, crackers, or cookies.

Its convenience in spreading and for keeping on the cupboard, its delicious flavor and appetizing appearance, and its wide range of uses, make it a popular spread which appears when it goes into commercial manufacture.

The creamy texture keeps best in a rather cool place. In temperatures above 90 degrees Fahrenheit it softens because the honey tends to liquefy.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK COMMITTEE SEEKS AMPLE SUPPLY OF FERTILIZER

Florida farmers should have little difficulty in obtaining ample supplies of fertilizer to produce 1950-51 crops, the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee reports.

Some difficulties may be encountered at times in obtaining mixtures with specific proportions of the "minor" elements. The group reports that more serious developments in the Kona situation might result in diversion of some materials from fertilizer to industry. Where requirements are exact and specific mixtures needed, farmers would be wise to accept early delivery of needed amounts.

VEGETABLE RECORD SET IN GLADES

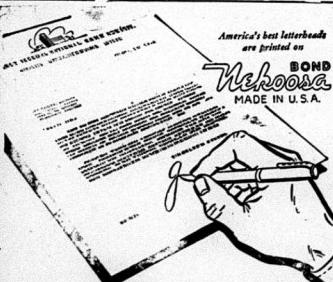

The Glades hit an all time peak in harvest and sales of vegetables, according to W. D. Brunson, Florida East Coast division freight agent, West Palm Beach. Brunson's figures reveal that total shipments of perishables from Everglades stations, Maythorn thru Lake Harbor, amounted to 14,323 loads in 1945-46, the highest season during the war.

Note to self: As the second installment of my series about amphibious cruisers in Rube Allyn's "Best Bet" from St. Petersburg to Miami and the Inland Waterway.

You can think that launching 3,000 pounds of boat in a swift running creek would be a tough job, but believe it or not, Rube Allyn did it all by himself. Because of the construction of the boat and the manner of attachment to the trailer, all he had to do was simply back the trailer, boat and all, into the water, loosen the trailer fastenings and pull away the trailer and the "Best Bet" was at sea, fully equipped for a long trip. I have seen two or three guys, however, who sell out trying to launch a small open boat from a trailtive runners, the "Best Bet" just slides up and off an obstruction like a snake or turns the wheel into the water. It was amazing.

Arriving at the drawbridge on the road between Green Cove Springs and Jacksonville we had to wait while it was opened by hand, about a twenty-minute job. With time on our hands, we anchored the boat and went in for a cool swim and were back on board again in time to pass through the bridge and wave a "Thank you" to the goggle-eyed bridge tenders who had never seen anything like the "Best Bet" before.

Black Creek is a beautiful stream that winds its way into the broad St. Johns at a point just above Green Cove Springs; so we could see the Navy's mothball fleet riding at anchor as we came into the river. Still steering, I was carefully following the channel stakes that took a roundabout course.

I called my attention to the fact that "Jacksonville was that way."

"I know," I replied. "But I'm following the channel, don't you see the stakes?" "Sure," he says. "But you're navigating the "Best Bet" and she doesn't worry about channels or stakes;

just set a course due north and bottom but we would just ease off a little and keep going. Can you imagine such a boat? Now we were stark staring mad. We just laughed, tossed him a cold Coca-Cola and told him we didn't have to hunt around to find any water, we were giving our outboards a chance to amaze him.
